In the Kingdom of Talero, a young prince sets out on a dangerous journey to discover his destiny and the power he needs to rule his kingdom. In Devlin, a brother and sister escape a maniacal tyrant who is determined to stamp out all magic from the land. They must flee in search of help for their people. With the two kingdoms on the brink of war, and magic becoming scarce, the prince and his companions must stand together. It will take all of their courage and abilities to save their people
