Jason I'm the man you trust to save your life and everything you love. Ember did. But hell, she was Randy's little sister. Trouble is, she f*cking grew up.

Now I can't live without her... not that she left me a choice. Ember's the only woman in the world with the power to end us, to reduce me to ashes. She gave me her body. I gave her my soul. Then I traded a life of privilege to chase down disaster, to put my life on the line. It was the one choice with the power to tear us apart.

And it did. I made one wrong decision that cost me everything, and I paid for three long years. Now I'm back, and I won't stop until my ring's on her finger and my son's in her belly. She'll have to tell me to my face that she never loved me... and that she never will. But I'm praying she won't. As a matter of fact, I'm counting on it. Because I'm in the fight of my life now, and none of us will survive without one last chance. Ember Everyone has one moment they'd give anything to do over. Jason's my tower of rock-hard strength. A pillar of steel-cut muscle and piercing blue eyes. There's nothing he can't do. From fighting wildfires, to splitting wood and pounding... nails. Trouble is, he treats me like I never grew up.

He makes decisions without me that affect our lives and our future.

It's better to be alone, than to be with the wrong man. But it doesn't make alone any easier... I've loved him my whole life, I always will. Our lives were woven together the first night he took me in his arms. Take away a single thread and we weaken. Remove one of us, and the other is nothing but shreds. My body burns with a need I can't satisfy or deny. I'm alone and I'm terrified. What if there's only one way to a second chance?
