The Fifteen-Year Itch: This novella is based in the 1960's. Ava Connor's curiosity gets the best of her when she pursues adventure with the tall, blonde, and extraordinarily handsome playboy Simon Trendall just two doors down from her. Only problem is, Ava is married, and has been for fifteen years to handsome Royal Navy officer Mark Connor. They also have six children. Ava has never been with any other man except for her occasionally abusive, overly-protective husband and finally gets her proverbial itch "scratched" by Simon, but he is so much more than she bargained for, and the results of their blatant affair changes the entire course of the rest of Ava's, and everyone else's, lives... Love...Most Unconventional: Also based in the early '60's, a young, straight man named Charlie Marchand meets a tall, handsome stranger, stage name Sebastian Collins, who takes him on a long, winding ride into some things he had never experienced before in his young life....
