While researching her Valentino biography, Affairs Valentino, author Evelyn Zumaya discovered a case file of never-before-accessed court documents relating to Rudolph Valentino's personal and professional business and the extended settlement of his estate. While analyzing these documents, Ms. Zumaya uncovered a mystery, evidence of a crime committed as well as a vast amount of new information about this silent film icon. In the interest of supporting the documentation of Affairs Valentino, Ms. Zumaya now presents the documents most relevant to her work in this Companion Guide. These documents include Rudolph Valentino's will, the previously missing second page of his will, transcripts of lengthy court testimony, excerpts from his home, Falcon Lair's household ledgers and his final contract signed with United Artists. This fascinating guide also includes the first history of these controversial documents and the story of their remarkable recovery by Ms. Zumaya.
