THE ANGEL'S DEVIL IS A CLASSIC WESTERN FILLED WITH SUSPENSE, MURDER, AND AN UNDERLYING ROMANCE WITH AUTHENTIC OLD WEST DETAIL AND DIALOGUE. Where no law yet exists, gold was booming in the town of Deadwood, in the Lakota Sioux country. Dispatched on a new assignment, Angel and her brother head to Deadwood to investigate. Angel, having lost her husband years ago, was now a well known sharpshooter and ace cardsharp, who was out looking for revenge for the murder of her husband! On their way to Deadwood, Angel runs into her old friends Wild Bill Hickok and Calamity Jane, while facing the possibility of an Indian attack. For many years Angel had been hunting for Christopher Wolfe, the outlaw who killed her husband. Only when she found him, she was forced to work for him to stay alive. But when she met Diablo, a notorious gunslinger, she learned she could love again. Fearing that the outlaw who killed her husband would kill Diablo too, Angel sacrifices her own life to save his . . .
